

THE LEGAL DEPARTMENT FOR YOUR ONLINE EDUCATION BUSINESS

At The Legal Department, we love working with our Online Education Professionals! Our clients are online education professionals such as business coaches, life coaches, course creators, and online instructors. While their businesses may be very different, they often have the same legal issues.

The good news? We know you! We work with education professionals like you to identify risks and strengthen your business infrastructure so that you and your business are protected. Everyone has legal issues and we'd be honored to help you with yours.

There are 7 areas where the law affects your business:

- Entity Structure
- Regulatory Compliance
- Ownership Agreements
- Client Agreements
- Worker Agreements
- Vendor Agreements
- Intellectual Property Protection

We can help you build this infrastructure!

For many Online Education Businesses, Vendor Agreements and Intellectual Property Protection are often major focus areas:

- Do you review and understand all the vendor agreements you sign?
- Do you need to register your trademark(s)?
- Do you need to protect all your copyrights?
- Do you own all your materials? (Even those created by others?)

Additional resources, checklists, and articles about various legal topics are available for download on our website. Scan the QR Code to be taken to our Home Page and use the "Resources" tab to find the topic that is most helpful to you.

Why work with us?

- ✓ There's NO hourly billing here at The Legal Department. We offer flat fee, value based pricing that is quoted to you up front in your free introductory meeting so that there are no surprises when it comes to billing.
- ✓ We focus on educating our clients, not just telling them what they should do. Our attorneys host webinars, classes, and workshops with small business partners in order to share information, not keep it hidden. Our website and monthly newsletters are full of free legal resources.
- ✓ We know you! Our firm's sole focus is on small business law. We have experience with your industry specifically and with firms the same size as yours. We are a small business ourselves - so we know what you're going through, and we'd love to help.
